

Plan For Lasting Peace

Presented to U. N. By U. S. And Great Britain Carrying Twelve Points

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 14—(P)—The United States and Britain laid before the United Nations today a 12-point western plan for permanent peace.

The move was the answer to Russia's insistent demands for U. N. action on the so-called Soviet peace proposals.

U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin submitted the U. S.-British resolution immediately after another bitter Soviet attack was made on western powers.

The western proposal struck directly at Russia's threats against Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and at alleged Soviet aid to the Communists in China. It also called for religious and political freedom in every country and urged big power cooperation on such matters as atomic control.

The American-British resolution was pitched in just after Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky charged western Germany is being readied as a springboard for attack on the Soviet Union.

What It Provides

The western proposal put before the 59-nation political committee of the U. N. assembly called on all nations to:

1. Refrain from threatening or using force contrary to the U. N. charter.
2. Refrain from any threats or acts aimed at impairing the independence or integrity of any country or fomenting civil strife.
3. Carry out in good faith all international agreements.
4. Afford all U. N. bodies full cooperation and free access in the performance of tasks assigned to them.
5. Promote full freedom of political and religious expression and full respect for all other fundamental rights.
6. Promote nationally and through international cooperation efforts to achieve higher standards of living for all peoples.
7. Remove barriers which deny peoples the free exchange of information.
8. Participate fully in the work of the U. N.
9. Settle international disputes by peaceful means.
10. Cooperate in attaining effective international regulation of conventional armaments.
11. Agree to exercise national sovereignty jointly with other nations to the extent necessary to attain international control of atomic energy which would make possible the prohibition of atomic weapons.
12. Urge the five big powers to broaden their cooperation in the security council and exercise restraint in using the veto.

The Soviet Proposal

The Soviet plan calls for a pact among the five big powers, condemns what the Russians call war preparations in the western countries and urges an immediate ban on atomic weapons.

Austin said: "No part of the Soviet resolution is worthy either of amendment or adoption. It should be rejected as an attempt to slander, obstruct and deceive. I have placed before this committee the Soviet Union's record of non-cooperation. And now, I place before you on behalf of the governments of the United Kingdom and the United States a resolution on 'essentials of peace'. If the Soviet Union is ready to perform these essentials, then a five-power pact is not needed. If it is not, then I repeat, Mr. chairman, the pact is a hollow proposal."

Bomber Burns But Crew Escapes

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 14.—(P)—Four men escaped serious injury here yesterday when an air force bomber overturned and burned. The accident occurred as the B-25 bomber started to land at the Columbia airport.

The three crewmen and a passenger got out of the plane through an escape hatch. Moments later a gasoline tank exploded and flames destroyed the craft.

The plane was on a routine flight from Fort Leavenworth, Kas., to its base at Bolling Field, Washington.

The men were Maj. Dale W. Luehring, the pilot; Capt. W. G. Pace, co-pilot; Staff Sgt. John Curl, and Lt. Col. Herbert L. Gullickson, the passenger. All are stationed at Washington.

Services For Charles H. Harrison

Was Victim of Car Accident On Highway 5

Sunday the body of Charles Holliday (Bill) Harrison, 909 West Fifth street, fatally injured in an automobile accident on highway No. 5 ten miles south of Boonville, was brought to the Gillespie funeral home here from the Goodwin-Boller funeral home at Boonville, where it was first taken Saturday morning following the accident.

Funeral services for Mr. Harrison were held at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon at the Gillespie funeral home conducted by the Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church.

Mrs. Roy Kirchhofer and Mrs. George Lovercamp, accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox, sang, "No Night There" and "Abide With Me."

Pallbearers were: J. T. Bentley, A. W. Boone, Lloyd Phillips, C. C. DeLozier, L. R. Butcher and Frank Colborn.

Interment was made in the Memorial Park cemetery where the Masonic Lodge A. F. and A. M. No. 272 was in charge of the services.

Miss Pettigrew Improving

Miss Nell Pettigrew, 112½ East Fifth street, who was injured in the accident in which Charles H. Harrison, 63, 909 West Fifth street, was fatally injured, is getting along as well as could be expected at the Bothwell hospital. Miss Pettigrew suffered a fracture of the pelvis, bruises and shock.

At the hospital Sunday, she reported she was not driving the car as was first reported, but that it was driven by Mr. Harrison. In an interview at the hospital Sunday she said:

"I was sitting on the right side of the front seat fooling with a mum Mr. Harrison had obtained for me to wear at the football game, just before the accident occurred. And only a minute or two before had put lipstick on, during which time Mr. Harrison remarked he wasn't going to drive fast because he didn't like to take any chances with Mr. Routsong's car. He had also said he was driving slow because he hated to drive on black top pavement when slippery. It had been raining for several minutes before."

"I don't like to drive anyone's automobile and especially the car which was loaned to Mr. Harrison for us to go to Columbia." Miss Pettigrew said in saying that she was not driving the car. (Mr. Harrison, owned a Cadillac and his car was at Routsong's garage being serviced, while the 1949, 88-Oldsmobile in which they were riding was loaned for the drive. Miss Pettigrew said that they had passed Dr. J. W. Boger a short time before the accident occurred.)

Sweden Granted $410,000 Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—Sweden was granted $410,000 in new Marshall Plan aid today in the midst of a hot fuss over that country's treatment of touring U. S. Senators.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) and other members of a senate appropriations subcommittee complained over the week-end that they were snubbed when they visited Sweden on a tour of Europe.

Thomas said the Swedes had grabbed "some easy money" under the Marshall plan. He declared any further aid to that country would be granted over his protests.

Swedish newspapers fired back that Thomas was a "liar" and that his remarks were "twaddling nonsense."

The economic cooperation administration earmarked the additional $410,000 for Sweden among $8,328,000 of recovery grants to seven European countries announced today.

The $410,000 is for the purchase of electrical equipment in this country.

Strike Tie-up At St. Louis Stockyards

Embargo is in Effect Until The Strikers Return

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Nov. 14.—(P)—Strike tied up operations at the national stockyards here at 10:30 a. m. (EST) today as the greatest hog receipts of the year, 19,000, poured into the pens.

W. R. Huitt, secretary of the St. Louis livestock exchange, said the strike was called unexpectedly by members of an AFL livestock Handlers' union. About 400 workers were affected.

Huitt said loaded trucks were turned away after management placed an embargo on further shipments. No more livestock will be received, spokesmen said, until the strikers return to work.

Besides the 19,000 hogs, receipts today included 5,500 cattle, 1,300 calves and 2,700 sheep.

Practically all the hogs were sold early, but they had not been weighed when the strike stopped transactions. The livestock is being fed and watered in the yards.

The striking union has been negotiating a new contract, calling for a pay increase, with the stockyards management. Handlers at the Chicago stockyards recently received pay boosts.

Officials of the striking union went into conference with management representatives after the embargo was laid down. The strikers milled around the livestock exchange building, where the conference was being held.

The livestock was being cared for by workers of commission houses to which the shipments were consigned.

It could not immediately be learned what specific wage increases the strikers seek or what their present pay level is.

Would Resist Encroachment

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—(P)—Berlin's anti-Communists promised U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson today they will resist Soviet encroachment.

Admonished by the American secretary to fight for their own liberty if they want continued U. S. support, the west Berliners answered through their mayor, Ernst Reuter:

"We are fully aware here in Berlin that your great nation is back of us. We know we can rely on you and you can rely on us. You promised me on my visit to the United States that you would visit Berlin, and you kept your word. I guarantee you that Berliners keep their word, too."

This pledge was voiced in the battered old city hall in west Berlin, thronged with German officialdom to receive Acheson on his one-day visit here. Acheson was concluding his visit to Europe, which entailed a two-day meeting of the western foreign ministers in Paris and a four-day visit to West German cities. He leaves by plane tonight for Washington.

New Impetus For Jap Treaty

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—With western unity newly reinforced in Europe, Secretary of State Acheson returns to Washington this week. He will take up next several important decisions in the drive to halt communism in Asia.

Work on the drafting of a Japanese peace treaty is expected to get a new impetus from the State Department chief soon after his arrival. New steps are due, too, to clarify American policies with respect to the Chinese situation.

Acheson's most immediate step, however, will be to join with President Truman in welcoming the Shah of Iran. They will discuss measures for further strengthening the anti-communist position in the strategic line for which Greece is one anchor and Iran is the other.

Acheson is due here Tuesday at the end of a week-long trip to Paris. While on the visit he talked with British and French foreign ministers on the organization of western Europe including Germany and then made a flying tour of key points in western Germany itself.

Administration officials here shared the confidence which Acheson has displayed in his European statements, that the Paris meeting made solid progress toward solving the great problems of Europe's future.

Sales Totals At High Level

Bright Future But Pinch in Profits Ahead

By Rader Winget (For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(P)—Retailers are facing a pretty bright future in the next months ahead as far as their sales volume is concerned. The pinch comes in profits.

The amount of money being rung up on department store cash registers right now is only a shade below a year ago. And remember that last year was one of the best in grand totals that department stores ever had.

But this year their profits are being shaved down by high operating costs. On every score it costs more to stay in business now than a year ago. As one merchant said: "the more you earn the less you make."

In a recent survey the National City Bank of New York shows that 58 large retail corporations in the first half of this year had a sales volume only four per cent under the comparable period of 1948. But their net income was down 31 per cent.

The 27 department and specialty stores in the list reported sales only three per cent under a year ago, but their profits were off 35 per cent.

The latest report of the Federal Reserve Board gives department store sales at two per cent under last year for the week ended Nov. 5.

That's about the most cheering news these retailers have had all this year. From Jan. 1 to date, department store sales slumped an average of six per cent under 1948.

Compare With Banner Year

It's true that the comparisons of this year's volume has been made against the banner year of 1948, the tail-end of the post-war boom. And it is also true that the present good showing is partially accounted for by a temporary but sharp drop in the volume of business at this time last year. Last year's bad business makes this year's good business look still better.

But the recovery was made despite the lengthy and costly coal and steel strikes. Just before the coal strike started Sept. 19, sales were seven per cent under last year. They got steadily worse after the steel workers walked out. At their low point, department store sales were down a thumping 12 to 14 per cent under last year.

What about the rest of this year? The head of one of the largest department store groups in the country—Fred Lazarus Jr., president of Federated Department Stores Inc.—guesses that dollar volume will be "somewhat lower than a year ago."

That probably means only a few percentage points lower. An exact figure is impossible to give, even at this late date, because of the uncertainty of further strikes and shut-downs.

But with everything normal, retail trade can continue its present pace at the cash register.

Over 400 to be at Annual C. of C. Banquet Tonight

Over 400 reservations have been made for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet which will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the new Sacred Heart auditorium, Third street and Vermont avenue. This is the first time that the new auditorium has been used for such an occasion, although various school activities have been held in it.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, of Topeka Kas., known internationally for his speaking ability, will be the principal speaker. The

Hunting Trip of Officers Costly

MT. VERNON, Mo., Nov. 14.—(P)—The hunting trip of Sheriff Everett Evans of Dade county, his deputy and a friend cost them $12.50 extra.

They were fined $5 and charged costs of $7.50 each in magistrate court after they had pleaded guilty to charges of hunting on closed land without the owner's consent. Besides the sheriff, the defendants were Lee Stivers, deputy sheriff, and Herbert Burnett, all of Greenfield.

The charges were filed by E. M. Poirot, Golden City, prominent farmer and conservationist.

Institute a Moose Lodge

Officers Elected At Meeting Held On Sunday

The Sedalia Lodge No. 1494 of Loyal Order of Moose was instituted with two-thirds of approximately 150 candidates taking their obligation as members in this organization at their new lodge quarters, Second street and Lamine avenue, Sunday afternoon. The degree staff and drill team which conducted the rituals were of the St. Joseph Lodge No. 315. The large class was represented in initiation by Mayor Julian H. Bagby.

Abe Goldmann, deputy supreme governor of Missouri, state association of Moose, installed the following officers of the local lodge: Carl W. Frank, governor; William P. Miller, past governor; Archie Whiston, junior governor; L. A. Pharris, prelate; Charles Thompson, secretary; James Harms treasurer; Joseph Cook, sergeant-at-arms; three trustees, Al Ricunas, three years; Irvin Davis, two years and Willard F. Dean, one year; Paul Bremer, outer guard.

Conducted Rituals

Hamilton T. Murphy, state director of Missouri, assisted by Frank J. Welch, membership director, instituted the lodge. Those who conducted the rituals were: Abe Goldmann, installing officer; Clarence Riepen, junior governor of St. Joseph lodge, took the part of governor in conducting ritual of initiation; U. S. Commissioner Morris Pope, took the part of past governor; Magistrate Judge William Kimberlin was prelate, and Charles Adams, sergeant-at-arms of St. Joseph, acted the part of sergeant-at-arms in the ceremony. They were assisted by 16 drill team members who were dressed in regular drill uniforms.

The newly installed officers will meet tonight at 8:00 o'clock with the supreme auditor, Marvin Miesmer and Mr. Welch to set up by-laws for operating the new club, and to acquaint officers with their duties and obligations.

A resolution was passed setting Tuesday night of each week as the lodge meeting night, with the first meeting to be held this Tuesday night, at 8:00 o'clock.

Following the ceremonies, Sunday, a buffet luncheon and entertainment was held for the new members, their wives and guests.

Waded to Death In The Surf

HALF MOON BAY, Calif., Nov. 14.—(P)—A middle-aged Belmont couple waded hand in hand to their deaths in the surf near here just at sunset yesterday. A score or horrified but helpless witnesses looked on.

The two were identified by San Mateo county deputy sheriffs as Myrtle M. Porter, 47, and Ted Yelle, 50.

Deputy Sheriff James Beatty said the pair dined at Martin's Beach, a small tavern and restaurant on the edge of a low cliff. Ed Watts, owner of the tavern, said the couple had a number of drinks, and then ate a fish dinner.

Later they announced they were going for a stroll on the beach to watch the sunset. At about 5 p. m. one of the diners reportedly noticed they were wading into the ocean fully clothed.

As all of the occupants of the tavern crowded to the window, the two waded directly out into the path of the setting sun and were finally engulfed by heavy waves.

File Charge Of Murder on Ohio Student

James D. Heer Held Without Bond in Slaying

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—(P)—A first degree murder charge was filed today against James D. Heer, an Ohio state university freshman, who killed a fraternity brother after a homecoming party.

The 20-year-old student and ex-Marine pleaded innocent and was held for the grand jury without bond.

Detective Sgt. Lowell V. Sheets, who filed the charge, said the shooting followed an argument with a girl friend and a reprimand from fraternity brothers.

The girl friend, Joyce Crafton, 22, of Cleveland, was arraigned as a material witness and her bond was continued at $300.

The officer, after questioning the 20-year-old Ohio state university freshman, reported Heer said he was "going to get a gun and start out on a criminal orgy."

Tried To Get Pistol

James T. McKeown, 21, a senior and managing editor of the university's student daily, was shot to death early Saturday when he tried to take a 45-caliber automatic pistol from Heer.

The shooting, which occurred in front of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house, followed a fraternity cocktail party and dance.

Detective Sheets described Heer's argument with 22-year-old Joyce Crafton of Cleveland as a possible "key" to developments in culminating in the slaying.

Sheets' account of the events follows:

"After the homecoming dance of the fraternity, Heer took his 'date' to the home of his aunt and uncle.

They were driven there by John W. Johnson, 20 of Shaker Heights, another fraternity brother, and his date.

"Enroute to his aunt and uncle's home, Heer argued with Miss Crafton and when they arrived at the home he refused at first to leave the car and accompany her to the door.

Student Censured

"Johnson censured him and told him if he didn't take the girl up to the house, he (Johnson) would not drive Heer back to the fraternity house.

"Heer then took the girl to the house and went with her to her room.

"There he attempted to make improper advances, but Miss Crafton resisted.

"Heer stomped from the room, stating Miss Crafton would read plenty about him in the newspapers."

Detective Sheets added that Heer admitted he was "mad at a group of six or eight fraternity brothers who had criticized him for dancing with other girls" and that he intended to get a pistol and "start on a criminal orgy."

McKeown had just arrived at the fraternity house when he saw Heer running from the place, pursued by fraternity brothers. McKeown joined the chase and was shoved away by Heer.

Heavy Fire Loss At Indian School

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., Nov. 14.—(P)—Damage estimated at about $110,000 resulted last night from a fire which swept a large barn and tool shed at the Chillicothe Indian school.

Six students, helping to fight the flames, were hospitalized. Four were overcome by smoke, one fell through a roof and another was struck by a falling beam. All were taken to a hospital here.

The flames destroyed the central part of the big barn, one of its two wings, and the tool shed. Grain, hay and equipment also were lost. A horse and a mule were led to safety. The barn normally houses about 30 head of horses and mules, but they were in a pasture when the fire broke out.

The damage estimate was made by Charles Laughlin, chief clerk at the school, which is located across the Oklahoma line five miles south of Arkansas City. The fire started in the tool shed.

Must Serve in Bribery Cases

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—The supreme court today in effect ordered former Rep. Andrew J. May and the Garsson brothers to begin serving prison sentences imposed on them for wartime bribery and conspiracy.

The tribunal for the second time refused to review the trials which resulted in eight to 24-month prison terms for May, and Henry and Murray Garsson.

Dangerous to Park In Lonely Spots

DETROIT, Nov. 14.—(P)—The cops were right when they told a couple of young lovers it's dangerous to park in lonely spots.

But Patrolmen John Major and Roland Knight were as surprised as the boy and girl to find out just how right.

The suburban Ferndale policemen noticed the car in a wooded area early Sunday.

"Don't you know this is dangerous?" they asked its occupants. "There might be men lurking around here with guns."

Then Major flashed his light around in a grand gesture, and the beam showed a man crouching near the car. Sure enough, he was carrying a revolver. The prowler was held for investigation.

Speed Moves On Safety in The Airways

Veep's Plane in a Close Call With Blimp Thursday

By James J. Streib

Associated Press Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(P)—Vice President Barkley's close call in what a bomber's crew said was a near collision with a commercial blimp near Washington appeared certain today to speed up studies on separating traffic around airports.

The popular "Veep" who is to be married next Friday, was unaware of the incident at the time. Crew members said the Air Force B-17 in which he was a passenger roared within 50 feet of the blimp without so forewarning it was there. Barkley told newsmen at Hartford, Conn., last night he "didn't know a thing" about it.

It happened last Thursday night but did not become known—except by those immediately concerned—until last night.

This was the second incident of its general nature reported in the area of the Washington national airport since Nov. 1. That was the day on which a Bolivian fighter plane collided with a big commercial airliner, killing 55 persons.

Special Mission Plane

The B-17 carrying Barkley to Washington was a special air mission plane based at Bolling air base across the Potomac river from National Airport. It had picked up Barkley at Paducah, Ky., late in the afternoon.

Capt. William R. Humrichouse, 33, hero of 113 combat missions in the southeast Pacific, reported that despite a special watch by his crew the four-engine bomber was above and within 50 feet of the blimp before seeing it.

Humrichouse did not see the twin-engined gas bag but three members of the crew said they saw it so close that their engine exhaust flames reflected from the shiny fabric.

The B-17 landed without further incident at national airport a couple of minutes later.

Temperature Above Normal

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(P)—Temperatures dropped from their mild readings of last week over the eastern half of the country today but they still were above seasonal levels.

There were only a few points reporting below freezing temperatures the U. S. weather bureau said. The mercury was below 32 degrees in the Northern Rockies and in some northern New England areas. Cool air from the Pacific moved from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast, moderating as it reached the seaboard. New York's early morning reading was 59.

Rain fell in parts of the New England states and there were showers in the south Atlantic states and the lower lakes region. Fair weather was reported over most of the area from the lower Ohio valley and the west Gulf states to the southern Rockies and central and south Pacific states. Skies were cloudy in the Great Lakes region and the northern plains.

Veep Presents Mrs. Hadley With Auto

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—(P)—Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley was driving around in a slick new automobile today, a wedding present from Vice President Alben W. Barkley. They are to be married Friday morning.

The car, which cost around $3,000, is a black (Oldsmobile) convertible with red leather seats and a tan top. William Vaughan, a civilian aide to the vice president, drove it from Washington, arriving yesterday.

"I'm thrilled with it," Mrs. Hadley said.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round Earl Warren is Only Republican Who Can Win In California Next Fall by Drew Pearson

LOS ANGELES—There is one lesson eastern Republicans learned from last week's big Democratic victories which still hasn't percolated to hardheaded California Republicans—namely, the fact that the grand old party is not only going to romp back into power with old-fashioned, pre-New Deal candidates.

Even in rock-ribbed Republican Philadelphia which hasn't let a Democrat get a toe hold in its government for half a century, Progressive Democrats staged a significant victory. And in New York City the Republican party did not poll even 25 per cent of the vote.

Here in California, however, the old-line GOPers are still day-dreaming about unseating Progressive Republican Governor Earl Warren and running a Conservative instead. Republican big business considers Warren too liberal, too friendly to labor, too sympathetic to the old people of California.

What they don't realize is that Warren was elected chiefly because he has swung Democratic and borderline voters. And today, with Jimmy Roosevelt's winning smile already rolling up a big popular following, no Republican would have a chance in next fall's gubernatorial race except Earl Warren.

As a further result of last week's eastern defeats, GOP leaders are wondering more and more whether they won't have to pick either General Eisenhower or Governor Warren if they want to win the White House in 1952. They know they couldn't control Warren once he got in the White House. But they also know that he has consistently won huge blocks of Democratic and labor votes, and they are beginning to realize that perhaps that is the only way they can even get the grand old party back in the saddle.

Note 1—New Jersey's Governor Alfred Driscoll, one of the few Republicans re-elected last week, is a hard-working Progressive frequently at odds with reactionary leaders of his party.

Note 2—General Eisenhower, still a great and glamorous figure, may be politically tarnished by 1952. By that time, with more tax money paid out for armament, a lot of people may be taking seriously Ike's advice that no military man should run for president.

Henry Wallace vs. Brigham Young
 A backstage controversy is raging over the location of two statues—that must be mounted in the capital building—Brigham Young and Henry Wallace.

Brigham Young, the famed Mormon pioneer, is Utah's candidate for the Hall of Fame. In Salt Lake City, he stands—cast in bronze—in the middle of Main Street. Some of his disciples believe he should occupy just as prominent a spot in the nation's capitol, though one or two people in Washington point out that he will be the only hero in the Hall of Fame who reputedly had 21 wives.

As for Henry Wallace, many thing he should not be mounted in the capitol at all, but in the Kremlin. However, the law demands that the busts of all ex-vice presidents must be exhibited in the capitol building, so the anti-Wallaceites are hunting for the most obscure spot.

Both cases are expected to be settled, when Congress convenes, by Sen. Theodore Green of Rhode Island, who is chairman of the committee in charge of such matters. He's a kindly gentleman who won't want to slight either Brigham Young or Henry Wallace.

Merry-Go-Round
 Luxembourg, diplomatic home of the famous Mrs. Mesta, is now being called "Perle Harbor." . . . Ace Congressman Mike Monroney has been touring Oklahoma to survey the prospects of running against speculating Senator Elmer Thomas. Elmer has built up a strong political machine, but the grass-roots are for Mike. . . . According to Stanley Arnold, diligent Cleveland researcher, Alben Barkley will increase his chances of becoming president after he marries. Seven American presidents, says Arnold, married widows—most of them wealthy. George Washington married Mrs. Daniel Parke Curtis; Thomas Jefferson married Mrs. Bathurst Skelton; James Madison married Mrs. John Todd; Millard Fillmore married Mrs. Ezekiel McIntosh; Benjamin Harrison married Mrs. Walter Dimmick; Woodrow Wilson married Mrs. Norman Galt; and Warren Harding married Mrs. Henry De Wolfe.

Baffling Coalition Labor hates the injunction weapon against strikes more than almost any device it ever has had to combat. Its violent campaigns against the Taft-Hartley Act are rooted in that hatred, for the law contains an injunction provision. Lately the unions have been getting support in their fight from a wholly unexpected quarter. Senator Taft himself, co-author of the law labor so bitterly assails, says he thinks the injunction should be used sparingly. He sees a tendency to call for it on too slight a pretext.

It should be used, he says, only in real emergencies.

This must be very confusing to labor, which is laying the groundwork for an all-out effort next year to unseat Taft as the devilish fellow who contrived the hated weapon.

Washington Gamblers Rake In Chips at Government Employes' Expense

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A special investigation of crime conditions and rackets in the District of Columbia has been ordered by Congress. One of the things this probe is expected to go into is the widespread, organized gambling that goes on in government buildings. Every Friday afternoon in the fall work practically stops while government employes try to pick their selections for the next day's football pool. Two or three syndicates operate these pools. Every weekend the gamblers' take on the football pool alone is estimated to be more than $20,000.

All year long the numbers racket and horse betting flourish. Government officials ignore the situation and many top executives themselves play the ponies regularly with the bookies in the buildings. Most of the syndicates' agents are government employes, messengers and janitors. They use the government telephones to call in bets as they get them.

In the Pentagon there is competition among the agents for the business. The only time officials take action is when the gamblers fight among themselves. Local police are handicapped in trying to stop this activity because their jurisdiction in a federal building is vague. And most local building guards have no instructions to stop gambling.

Total yearly take from U. S. buildings here is estimated at being over $5,000,000.

Cooking Up Votes
 Senator Taft has turned up with what his staff claims is a brand-new campaign gimmick on his current stumping of Ohio, in preparation for next year's election. He makes it his business to wind up every luncheon and supper meeting in the kitchen, congratulating the cook. Then there usually follows a bull session with the Ohio senator doing some good for himself, it is reported.

Early Bird Gets Worm?
 Senator Taft's supporters claim that his strategy of going direct to the people, more than a year before the election to discuss issues, has paid off. His opponents said he was jumping the gun, that he would lose his steam before the critical campaign. That still might happen. But as of now the Taft camp is saying that the early start, showing Taft's wide popularity, has discouraged the candidates who were considering opposing him. They say the opposition is now left without a top-flight opponent for him.

Also, the first loud claims of labor groups about what they would do to Taft are being carefully modified. It is reported that the Ohio labor organizations demanded that the national labor leaders who moved in to run the anti-Taft show go back home or soft-pedal their approach. Local labor leaders don't want to be left out on a limb on the good chance that Taft might win.

• So They Say

If we build this carrier and find that we don't need it, the cost to the nation will be $189,000,000. If we don't build this carrier and find that we do need it, the cost to the nation may be the nation itself.—Capt. Arleigh A. Burke, assistant chief of Naval Operations in charge of research, on the "super-carrier."

There is no reasonable basis for these be-devilments. Coal miners are better off in wages and earnings—when the unions permit them to work—better off in hours at work, better off in so-called welfare payments contributed by the employers than any other industrial workers in the United States.—Charles A. Owen, president of the National Coal Association.

If businessmen would come to Washington more often and discuss their problems with government officials rather than standing aloof and throwing brickbats, there would be a smoother pathway for both business and government.—Vice President Alben Barkley.

When a business enterprise takes a man or woman into its service, it has a bounden duty to begin setting aside for that individual's old age. If it cannot afford to do that, it shouldn't be in business.—CIO President Philip Murray.

Our stock of A-bombs must be superior both in quality and quantity to those of Russia. And coupled with that goes long-range bombers that can reach the vital points of Russia from bases on the North American continent.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines.

The college which produces intelligent elite is contributing neither to democratic processes nor to wholesome living.—Dr. John L. Knight, president of Baldwin-Wallace college.

Everybody doesn't want a degree from Harvard, Yale, or Princeton. If everybody became a professional man we would be in a terrible fix.—Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, presidential military aide.

Some impression has gone out that this Congress (the 81st) has not done very much, but when you add it up it is a rather impressive score.—White House Secretary Charles G. Ross.

The new social security bill, if passed by the Senate and made into law, should remove the need for the big pension campaigns in important fields.—AFL President William Green.

American (atomic) supremacy is predictable up to 20 years if we work hard.—Enrico Fermi, nuclear physicist.

THE STORY: Martin Falter has been murdered and the motive seems to be the valuable cameo which he was trying to sell and which Nell O'Neill claimed to own. Hagar Blair, who runs a gift shop, and who wants the cameo, finds the murdered man and immediately afterwards Stephanie Smith, Hagar's assistant, appears on the scene. They do not report the crime to police but go home. There in Hagar's collection is the missing cameo. As Hagar and Stephanie talk, Arnold Pfeiffer is eavesdropping outside their window. Hagar already has told Stephanie that she thinks Arnold, who had been commissioned by Falter to sell the cameo, put the missing cameo in the collection cabinet.

YAKOV said to Hagar. "There is something I must discuss with you. It is important."
 Arnold crouched in the shadows wondering how he could hear what went on between Yakov and Hagar. He permitted himself to utter a mild oath when he realized he was shut out completely.
 He crept away from Hagar Blair's house, reached the sidewalk, and with quick, cat-like steps, struck off for town.

YAKOV settled himself on Hagar's tropical divan. He offered her one of his long, fragrant cigars, which she refused.
 "Well, Miss Blair," he began, "exciting events take place in even the quietest of small American towns, do they not?"
 "What exciting events are you talking about?"
 Yakov gave a slight chuckle. "Surely even you cannot be so blasé as to consider a murder unexciting!"
 "A murder?"
 "Ah, Miss Blair," Yakov waved a hand in protest, "you looked upon the body of our poor friend, did you not? When his blood was almost fresh, perhaps."
 Hagar's flesh crawled visibly. He leaned back, "Let us be honest with one another. You were there looking for the cameo. So?"
 "So what! What were you looking for, Trotskyites?"
 Yakov's smile disappeared. He gnawed one edge of his narrow mustache. "May I ask if you found the cameo?"
 "I'll give you a straight answer: If it was around Martin's place anywhere, I certainly didn't find it."
 Yakov looked relieved. "I, also, made a careful search without result. If neither of us could locate the gem, it probably was not there. Perhaps you have thought where to look next? It might be politic to put our brains together."

To Him That Hath Shall be Given

Living With Martyr is Hard But There's One Sure Cure
 "How can you get along with a martyr?" That's what one young wife who says she is living with one, her mother-in-law, asks me.
 "She is always putting herself into a position where my husband and I must feel sorry for her," writes the wife.
 "No matter how hard I try to have things pleasant for her she can work things around where she is in the position of a martyr."
 "Then when we make all the proper apologies, she smiles sweetly and says, 'Never mind me. Just so you young people are happy.'"
 Poor daughter-in-law. She has a real problem. For, of all the people who are exasperating to live with, the martyr is perhaps the most trying.
 The only thing I can suggest is to stop reacting the way your mother-in-law is contriving to have you react.
 When you're convinced she is just playing the martyr, don't make the proper response. Don't sympathize or apologize or even show that you are put out with her unnecessary martyrdom.
Cure-all For Martyr-Type
 Just ignore the situation completely. A martyr is willing to work hard or deny himself pleasure to get the satisfaction he craves. He wants others to feel they have been selfish or even

"I need that chocolate to frost a cake for my club—don't cross the street against the lights!"

thoughtless or unkind. The martyr who is above such weaknesses forgives all.
 But the catch is that if the martyr doesn't get other people to feeling any contrition he has worked or done without or given up all for nothing.
 Not even a martyr is going to do that indefinitely. So that he doesn't get what he is after, catch may be your salvation. Let the martyr in your home go without her martyrdom even being noticed for a while. It may prove so unprofitable that she will give it up.
 Remember a martyr is selfish, and the only way to deal with a selfish person is to see that he doesn't get what he is after.

regulations, and the civil aeronautics administration (CAA), which interprets and enforces them, already are busy with the problem of air traffic separation, spurred by demands from congress, aviation leaders and the public.

The Barkley incident is likely to get attention during the CAA's continuing public inquiry into the Nov. 1 collision. That was between an Eastern Air Lines DC-4 with 51 passengers and four crewmen, and the Bolivian-Flown P-38 fighter as both approached

Many House Guests At Meints Home

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meints, of 2507 King street, in Alexander, Va., former Sedalians, have had many house guests during the past summer. In May their son, Lt. (j. g.) Alvin Meints, U. S. N. reported to the naval air station at Norfolk, Va., and has been spending many week-ends at home this summer. In June Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Meints, of San Jose, Calif., visited for three weeks with their parents. It had been the first trip to the east for Kenneth and Maureen in more than two years. Miss Ruth Meints returned home from school at the northeast runway at National Airport nearly two weeks ago. The Bolivian flier was the only survivor.

A week after that accident, an Eastern constellation filed a complaint that an airforce B-25 had nearly collided with it south of the airport. It said this near-hit came while the airliner was climbing to cruising altitude and the bomber was making a practice instrument or "blind" approach to Bolling field.

At about the same time, an airforce B-25 complained to the Bolling control tower that an Eastern constellation had endangered him by making an improper turn over the airbase after taking off from National.

Frank Getty issued a statement on behalf of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, which operates an advertising blimp here, after disclosure of the Barkley incident last night. Getty said an investigation by CAA absolved the blimp pilot of blame. Getty said the CAA found the Goodyear blimp was not in a restricted zone or violating any rules. He said it had been in constant two-way radio contact with the National Airport control tower.

Capital university, Columbus, O., to complete the family gathering. It was the first time since 1945 that Mr. and Mrs. Meints had had all of their children home at the same time.

Ruth has returned to Capital university, where she is a junior studying for a Bachelor of Music degree with a major in piano. She is secretary of Phi Beta, honorary music fraternity which was founded at Northwestern university in 1912.

Lt. (j. g.) Alvin Meints received his Wings in April at Corpus Christi, Tex.

curred and that she waded to the ones in the Boger car as they drove by. She said, "I felt the car skid a little and I braced myself, but thought Mr. Harrison would be able to straighten the car up, as he was a good driver, but the car kept swerving and turned completely around. I was thrown out onto the ground, partly lying on an embankment and partly in a ditch. Mr. Harrison was thrown out and the car rolled over on top of him and pinned me to the ground at the hips.

"Mr. Harrison said, 'Try and get out and I told him I couldn't. He then patted me and that was all that happened. It seemed a long time, but I suppose it wasn't before help reached us. I screamed and cried for help. I could see cars approaching and begin to stop.

Extricated as Car Lifted

"One of the first to peer down at me was Mrs. R. H. Ahrens, wife of Dr. Ahrens of Warsaw, and I recognized her and asked her to get us some help. Dr. Ahrens and others gathered and someone got a jack and tried to jack up the back end of the car. It relieved the weight but I was still pinned. A man said 'We have enough here, let's try and lift the car off of them' and they did. Two men pulled me up on the embankment and about that time I recognized Dr. Boger who examined me.

"It was raining, the rain falling in my face. Mrs. Ahrens covered me with a coat while I laid there to await an ambulance. I said to Dr. Boger, 'He's dead isn't he?' to which Dr. Boger said 'Yes'."

Continuing Miss Pettigrew said, "I understand in the confusion how a mistake could be made about who was driving, but I want to say I was not driving the car."

It was also reported that another accident occurred in about the same place two or three days before. A car had left the highway and went up the embankment and through a fence.

Still 19,000,000 War Survivors

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Some 19,000,000 of the men and women who have fought this nation's wars are still alive, the Veterans Administration said today.

Of the total of nearly 25,000,000 who took part, 934,000 died in service.

Tabulations as of September 30 showed that 16,535,000 participated in World War II, of whom 409,000 died in service.

Living World War veterans, not including those still in the armed services, total 15,252,000.

The Civil war was the next most costly in lives. Of 2,192,000 who participated in it, 364,000 died in service.

Twenty-two Union survivors are still alive.

In World War I, 4,744,000 took part and 131,000 died in service. The tabulation showed 3,570,000 World War I veterans still living.

The Spanish American war had 392,000 participants, 11,000 in-service deaths and 125,000 veterans still living.

Personal Income Takes a Dip

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Because farm prices were lower, total personal income of Americans dipped in September despite the first appreciable gain in factory payrolls this year.

The Commerce Department reported today that personal income—backbone of consumer buying power—slipped to an annual rate of $210,800,000,000 in September from $211,400,000,000 in August.

The September rate also was well below the $216,300,000,000 pace of September, 1948, but 1949 was still leading 1948 on the average for the first nine months.

The nine-months average this year amounted to an annual rate of $212,300,000,000 compared with $210,300,000,000 for the same months of last year.

The better average showing for 1949 was caused by a $5,000,000,000 increase, on an annual rate basis, in non-farm receipts, which include dividends and interest, landlord's rent receipts, pensions and relief payments, and wages and salaries.

The lower prices for farm products brought a 13 per cent decline in farm income for the first nine months of 1949 compared with the same period last year.

Miners Strike At Royalton

ROYALTON, Ill., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Nearly 500 United Mine Workers in this southern Illinois coal town struck today. They objected because they are not getting first choice of coal to fill their own home bins, the president of the local union said.

The mine is the Franklin county coal company's No. 7.

Arthur McCauley, president of UMW Local 1395, said trucks employed by the miners for years have had the right to go ahead of the line of waiting haulers on Mondays and Tuesdays.

McCauley said the bins of many miners are empty after their long strike and that when they found this morning they would not get first choice of coal, they quit.

A. L. Roberts, superintendent, said the miners had demanded first choice every day until their own needs were satisfied. He called it a "wildcat strike."

Lue Lozier be Commissioner

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The Missouri supreme court appointed Lue C. Lozier of Carrollton today as a commissioner of the state's highest tribunal.

The appointment is effective next Jan. 21.

Lozier is now chief counsel for the state highway department and formerly was a state legislator. He will succeed John H. Bradley who will soon reach the constitutional retirement age of 75.

The pay of commissioners is the same as for judges, $12,000 a year. They do the same work as judges but cannot vote on decisions.

Start of Spy Trial Delayed

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Judith Coplon and Valentine Gubitchev appeared in court today for trial on charges of conspiring to spy for Russia. The trial was delayed but was expected to begin late in the day.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan was named to preside, but he had to clean up other litigation before he could take up the case.

Miss Coplon, 28, walked into court briskly wearing a smart brown outfit. The courtroom is the same in which the nine-month trial of the 11 convicted communist leaders was held.

Juvenile Escapee Shot in Oklahoma

HYDRO, Okla., Nov. 14.—(AP)—An 11-year-old escapee from the Big Brother Juvenile Home at Joplin, Mo., today was recovering after being shot while attempting to rob a service station here.

Richard Conway, 11, Joplin, is in a Weatherford, Okla., hospital. A companion, Steven Forste, 13, Jasper, Mo., who escaped Saturday with Conway is in the Caddo county jail at Anadarko, Okla. They said they were going to Fort Worth, Tex., to get jobs.

The boys were captured after a homemade burglar alarm alerted Lucius Hatfield, owner of the service station.

He said he had been robbed four times in the past six months and set up a string stretched from the service station to his Hydro home.

"I fired at a figure running from the station after hearing the buzzer," Hatfield said.

"A .22 caliber bullet hit Conway in the side and abdomen."

Oklahoma authorities are awaiting arrival of the Conway boy's father and William Kelly, Joplin juvenile officer, before deciding on a course of action.

Corn Borer Invades North Missouri

Farmers Finding Heavy Damage By Infestation

Have you examined the corn stalks and ears in your field? Many farmers are doing so and finding the reason for down stalks, dropped ears and ears shrunk to 40 or 50 percent of normal size. It's the European corn borer.

This comes as a surprise to most Missouri farmers although it should not. In 1948, the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture issued a bulletin warning of the corn borer in these words:

"The European corn borer has become established in all counties of North Missouri and as far south as Highway 50, which runs from St. Louis to Kansas City through Jefferson City. It also has been found in counties along the Mississippi river as far south as New Madrid county. However, the degree of infestation in Missouri is very light.

"The heaviest infestation is in the Mississippi river counties north of St. Louis and in the row of counties along the Iowa border.

"There are two broods of borers which attack the corn crop throughout the season. The first brood of worms appeared this year, as 1948, during early June, and the second brood of worms will appear during late August and early September. Surveys to determine the degree of injury are made after 2nd brood attack and during the early fall months."

And this same bulletin went on to say:

"The situation in Missouri, while it does not appear alarming at present, is one that every farmer in the state will want to watch carefully. While no one can predict what the pest will do in the next year or so, favorable conditions might develop for either brood which would cause it to increase its numbers greatly in one season and be a real threat to the corn growers the following year. Present indications would lead us to believe that the pest could move strongly from heavily infested areas in Iowa and Illinois into Missouri under favorable conditions. These brief comments are presented not to alarm, but to acquaint Missourians with the pest and tell something about prevention and control measures."

In 1949 conditions were favorable to the borer and the light infestation of last year has grown into a real menace to the corn counties of Northern Missouri.

Not Hard To Check

Once you know what to look for it is not difficult to check and see whether corn borers have hit your fields. If they have, now is a mighty good time to determine how your corn is standing up under infestation.

First, look for borer holes in the stalks, in the ear shank or in the husk.

Second, compare the size and quality of the ears from stalks with no infestation, with ears from stalks that have only one or two borers and then with ears from stalks having 6 to 15 borers.

To determine the extent of stalk damage, split some of your heavily infested stalks. If you find disintegration and rotting of stalk fibers, you can depend upon your corn being a prey to wind or wet fall weather. Even though it shows a fair yield, it becomes expensive if not impossible, to harvest.

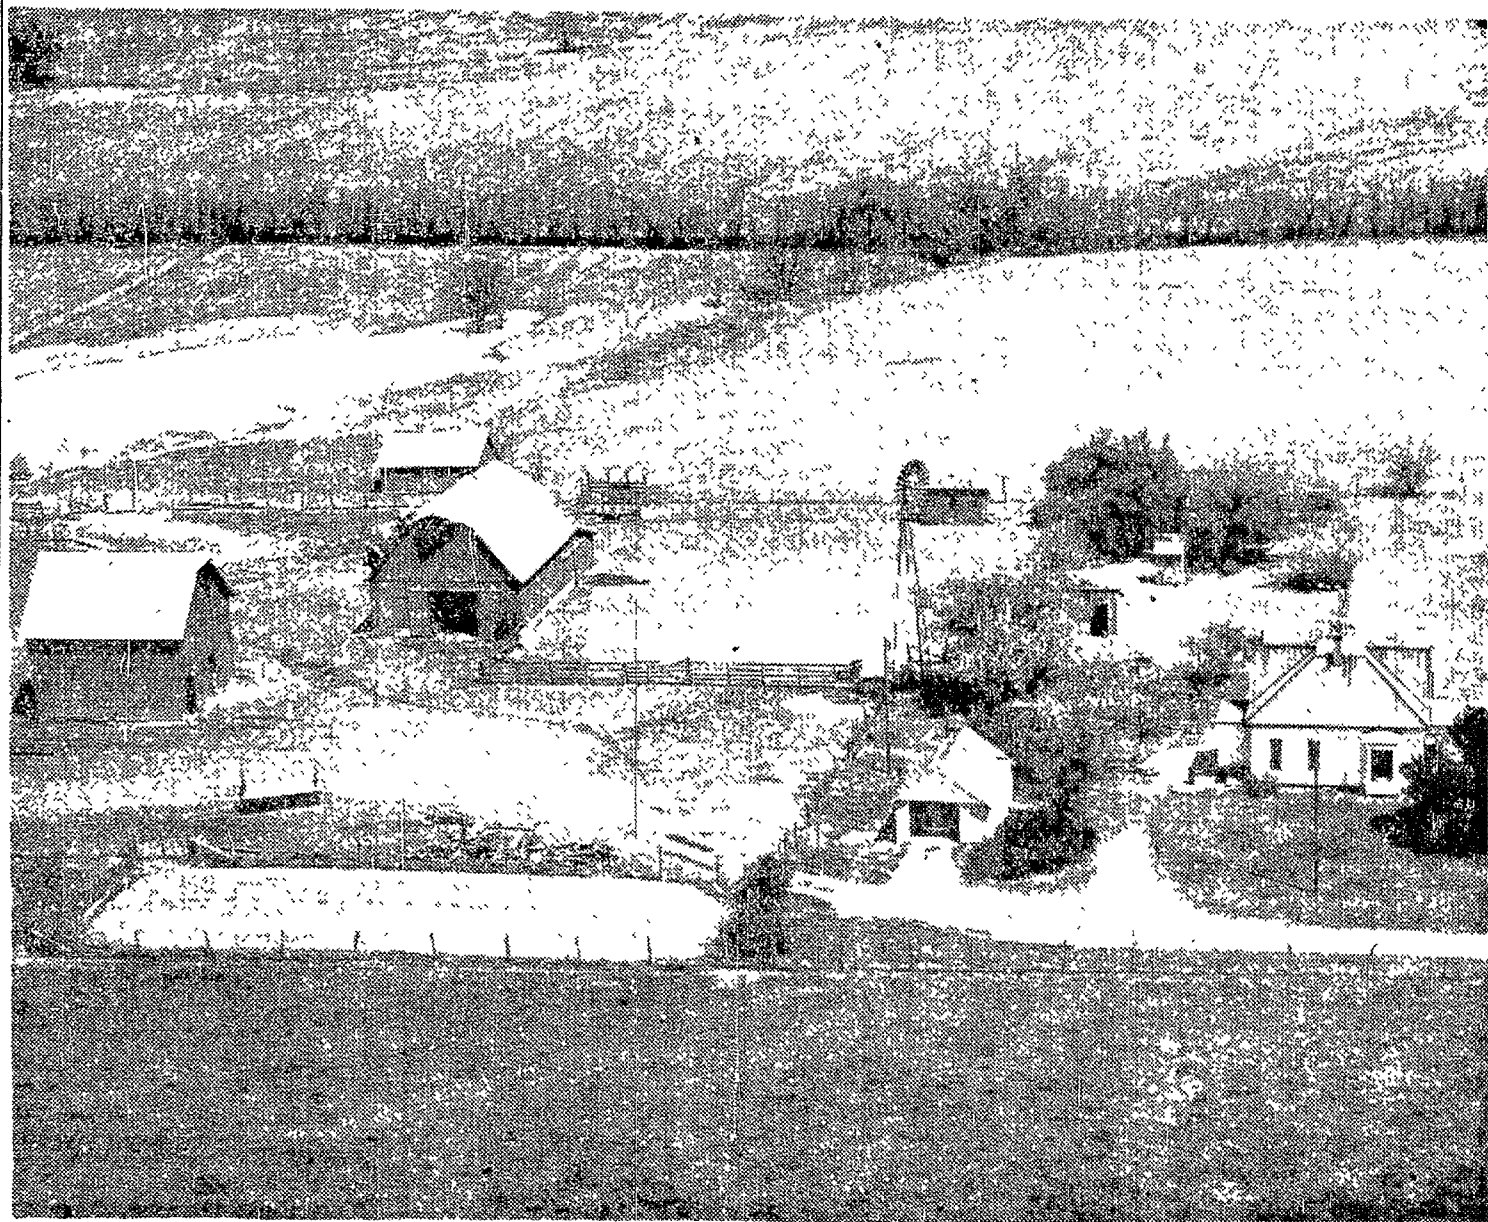

No hybrid is completely immune to the corn borer. However, some of them have been bred to be amazingly resistant.

According to J. L. Peppard, President of the Peppard Seed Company, "borer resistant strains are coming in for a lot more attention on the part of Missouri farmers now that this pest has become a real menace. The Funk G hybrids which our organization grows for Missouri and Kansas planting are resistant to corn borer infestation. From all over northern Missouri we are getting reports from farmers who say that infested fields of Peppard Funk G hybrids are standing up well for harvest and that the ears on stalks with as many as 6 borers are producing good sized and good quality ears."

"Of all the methods employed in fighting the corn borer, the planting of borer resistant hybrids is the readiest and least expensive. In fact it costs no more for the borer resistant hybrid seed corn than for the seed of susceptible strains," says Mr. Peppard.

There are two important characteristics to look for in identifying borer resistant hybrids. First is a good stiff stalk with tough fiber formation. The stalk should have capacity to "cork off" the area damaged by each corn borer, i. e., be able to lay down protective layers of substances which prevent or retard the advance of stalk rotting organisms. Second, look for a short ear shank. The second brood of borers come along about the time embryo ears are forming and the borer has a

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Whose farm is it?

Occupants of the above farm home may have wondered this spring about a plane buzzing low over their buildings. The picture explains it. The airplane pilot didn't know whose farm it was. The photographer didn't either. The two of them just flew around the Central Missouri area served by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital newspapers and took pictures. They couldn't take pictures of all the farms but they got as many good shots as possible during the light time.

Preference for tunneling ear shanks where it can shrink the size of the ear as much as 50% and even cause barren stalks. Short ear shanks with "corking off" ability are not so attractive to corn borers.

Achievement Week Is On

This week all over the nation counties are observing 4-H Achievement Week. This is an excellent time for parents and friends of 4-H'ers in Missouri to show their interest by attending local recognition meetings. For it is the encouragement and cooperation from adults that spurs these teen-agers on to reach their goals.

Mrs. Kathryn Zimmerman, state home demonstration agent, tells us that home economics extension clubs help 4-H clubs as a part of their program. Through organized effort they assist in organizing clubs, help provide 4-H transportation to camps and other events, provide leaders, and help train 4-H members in presenting demonstrations.

A new year for 4-H'ers begins after Achievement Week is over. This is your opportunity to help youngsters in your community build for the future. Your county extension workers, your local 4-H leader or home economics club president can tell you how you can help the 4-H'ers carry out their theme for this Achievement Week, which is "Better Living for a Better World."

Report Given On Egg Production

The reports from poultry co-operators with the Extension Service shows that in September the W. J. Lamm flock, 151 hens laid 2784 eggs or 18.43 per hen. Mrs. D. M. Overstreet's small flock of 64 hens laid 1341 eggs or 21.7 per hen. The flock of Mrs. Linden Lee Jones consisting of 91 hens laid 1408 eggs or 15.5 eggs each. The Bagby-Miller flock of 132 hens laid 16 eggs each.

So about once a week hereafter, until the pictures run out, the Sedalia Democrat-Capital will print these farm home pictures as a news feature. The newspapers would like to know whose farm homes they are.

The farm picture in the mystery series being published in the Democrat and Capital in the issue of last Monday's Democrat and the Capital the following morning was that of the farm of J. R. Williams of Lee's Summit, Missouri.

It is known as the Jackson Farley place, the Farley family having lived there a long term of years. Among its members being Charles W. Farley, cashier at the Missouri Public Service company's offices in Sedalia and Clarence Farley, on the parcel post and stamp window at the Sedalia post office. They spent their early boyhood there.

The father of the present owner, T. J. Williams, resides at Green Ridge.

The farm that had been occupied by a tenant up to several weeks ago now has the house unoccupied but the general farm activities are carried on.

The property is one and a half miles northeast of Green Ridge and comprises 184 acres. The house is of seven rooms and it has a large barn, poultry houses and other sheds such as go to add to conveniences.

Poles have been placed for the running of wires to supply electric current but this has not been completed.

Cattle are grazed and fed on the farm, the chief production of which is lespedeza and wheat in which liberal yields have been taken from the soil.

Full Association Fifty Members

Applications are now being taken for membership in the 1950 Balanced Farming Association. The second year's program is now drawing to a close.

So far several old members have signified their intentions of joining for another year. A full association consists of 50 members paying $75.00 cash.

Joining the association assists the individual to move much more rapidly in a well rounded program of higher net income, soil building, improved livestock and poultry sanitation, greater yields of crops, a better pasture program and more enjoyable family living.

Members get much more individual assistance than they can otherwise secure as these 50 have the full time services of an Associate County Extension Agent. He gets on each member's farm several times a year not only to help develop the plans but to get these plans into operation.

Application should be made now for membership to insure this service. Applications may be made at the Extension office in person, by mail or by phone.

Fertilizer Stepped Up Corn Yield

Wm. C. McCune of Spring Fork harvested 78.5 bushels of corn per acre from a part of a field. The yield on another area adjacent to this was approximately 33.5 bushels. The soil on each area was planted on each. The rate and date of planting was the same and cultivation was similar.

What made the difference? He applied a starter fertilizer of 100 pounds of 4-24-12 on each. The area yielding 33.5 bushels had no other fertilizer. On the 78.5 bushel area he plowed under 210 pounds ammonium nitrate carrying 70 pounds nitrogen and 170 pounds 45% superphosphate or 76 pounds P2O5.

Hence he harvested 45 extra bushels per acre by using 70 pounds nitrogen and 76 pounds P2O5. This extra plant food cost $12. Hence he produced 45 bushels of corn for an outlay of less than 27¢ per bushel.

He applied this fertilizer after having a soil test run. He followed the recommendation of the extension office as to the kind and amount of fertilizer. The recommendations were made for an 80 bushel corn crop. He did not get his corn as thick as was recommended.

Good Records In Eggs Production

For the month of August the reports from poultry record keepers with the Extension Service show the Bagby-McFatrach flock of 488 hens was at the top in egg production per hen—18.5 eggs. The second was the Wm. J. Lamm flock of 121 hens averaging 14.3 eggs each. Third was the flock of 119 hens of Everett Vannoy averaging 12.7 eggs each. Two other flocks beat 35% production.

Multiflora Rose is a dense, thorny shrub that grows to about eight feet in height and width. It has great value as a natural low cost fence and for providing cover for wildlife. On all but the very poorest soils this plant with adequate care will produce a stockproof fence within three years after planting.

The C. E. Turner farm is located on the south side of Highway 50 four miles west of Sedalia.

Department of Agriculture
Office of Secretary
Washington

To All 4-H Members:

Sincere congratulations on your 1949 achievements in 4-H club work. They have exceeded those of any previous year, and brought them you have made a very real contribution to "Better living for a better world."

You have demonstrated in a practical way how we may have better living for ourselves, how we may share our better living with the less fortunate, how we may prepare ourselves to be better citizens and so make this a better world. You have also gained much through your experiences in putting new discoveries of science to work in your demonstrations and in practicing good citizenship in your programs.

We in this Department join the Agricultural Colleges and your friends and neighbors throughout the country in heartiest good wishes.

(Signed) Charles F. Brannan
